INTRODUCTION:

Content Creation is the spine of our entire digital marketing strategy. Whether we've got a documented content marketing strategy or not, we're creating content to inform, entertain, inspire, or persuade our buyers through other channels. some content marketing examples include:

- Blog posts
- Emails
- Newsletters
- Social media posts
- Podcasts
- EBooks
- Videos

PROJECT OVERVIEW:

The Boutique shop that we are promoting is 'CLOSET LUXE' which is a unique clothing store. We know for sure now a day's people are very cautious about what they wear and how they appear. So, from our passion and love for the wonderful world of fashion we have come up with our unique boutique store which we believe will be pleasing our customers. Our boutique store focuses on the establishment of women wear including the operations of apparel designing, manufacturing, selling and marketing. We have developed some unique ways to attract customers and believe our customers as the hero of our small boutique store.

Content Marketing plan:

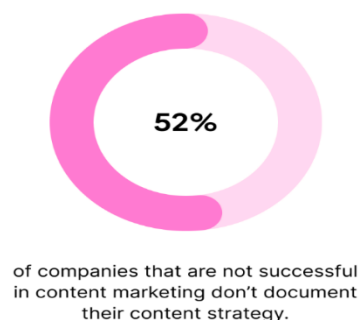

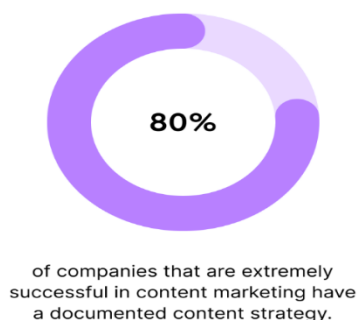

Content marketing plan is the documented strategy that details the who, what, when, where, why & how of our content.

- Who is creating the content?
- What kind of content?
- When is the content being published?
- Where is the content being distributed
- Why are you even content marketing?
- How are promoting and analysing the marketing results?

CONTENT MARKETING STRATEGY:

A content marketing strategy helps you achieve specific goals, define clear success metrics, and create processes for specific improvement.

Why Do You Need a Documented Content Marketing Strategy?

BENEFITS OF CONTENT MARKETING PLAN:

- More online visibility: The more consistently you post, the more customers you can attract. Provide educational, useful content that addresses users' pain points.
- More leads: Because a good content marketing strategy drives traffic, it can also drive leads
- More authority: The more useful content you share over time, the more people in your niche will see you as an authority figure
- More customer engagement: Loyal customers are often repeat customers. Engage with those who comment or respond to what you share.
- More budget: If you can prove your marketing success, it will likely be easier to ask for a bigger marketing budget in the future
